SEPTEMBER 2023

Quiet Times

It seems like this year has been a very different kind of year, from the weather to the temperatures, to the number of activities on, or around, the waters. Now, kids are back in school, vacations have been had, and are having cooler days, thinking of fall.

For those of us here year-round, we think of this time of year as the best. We still have plenty of produce from the gardens, the girls are still putting out a dozen eggs a day, the temperatures are very comfortable during the day, and being on the water is perfect.

Another perfect thing around the marina is Zarida. If you haven't met her yet, I'm sure you will soon. Zarida comes from another top-notch marina, so she has great experience, and is working with me in the office. Her exuberant personality, infectious laugh, and affection for having fun, make her a perfect fit with the team. Stop by, and say hello, she would love to put a name and face together. She is in the office Tuesday – Saturday. We are currently closed in the office on Mondays, and I am here Tuesday – Sunday (most of the time 😊, thanks to Zarida).

See you for some lovely, quieter, times on the water,

Devery

Upcoming Flare Collection

Alameda County, Delta Diablo, Contra Costa County, Marin County, the City of Oceanside, the Port of LA, and the California Product Stewardship Council have partnered with CalRecycle, California State Parks and Coastal Commission's California Boating Clean and Green Program to collect expired marine flares and educate residents about marine flare management safety, including the advantages of reusable distress signals, to protect California communities and the local environment.

Residents and boaters berthing their boats in Alameda County, East Contra Costa County, West Contra Costa County, Marin County, LA County, and the City of Oceanside can take their expired marine flares to their county's designated marine flare collection events in the fall. Only expired marine flares from residents and boaters berthing their boats in the covered areas will be accepted.
