

WHOO NEWS

APRIL 2024

Yay, countdown to Summer is here!

We are making some serious headway around the marina in preparation for a great summer. We have plans to paint docks, dock maintenance, have the garden ready the first week of April for all those gardeners chomping at the bit for some fresh dirt (and fresh veggies), as well as grooming the property to shine upon your visits. We are excited for all that is coming!

In addition to the excitement, we are happy to be celebrating 15 years of being here at Owl Harbor Marina. I've scanned through the photo's of when we began, and needless to say, we've made a few improvements. We hope for those of you that have been on this journey with us, will agree. For those of you that didn't know the "before" us, take our word, it's come a long way baby. To show some of the changes, I will be sharing some old photos in the newsletters that I've taken over the years as we have grown. There will also be some great photos of the many people who have been a part of this journey over the years.

We are scheduled to have great weather the first part of April around here, so come on down, and start (or finish) your own project of getting your boat ready for Summer.

Until then, see you soon,
Devery and Captain Jack Sparrow

Thinking about going Cruising??

For the first time since COVID shut everything down Here is one of the most sought-after seminars from the old Jack London Square to the Richmond Pavilion: What's it REALLY like sailing along the California & Baja coasts, the Sea of Cortez and mainland Mexico's coast? Pat and Carole McIntosh have done that. They've been helping other sailors do it for about 20 years. Here is YOUR OPPORTUNITY to download their book - -

- FOR FREE! CRUISING NOTES –Things to know before you go check out the table of contents, do a quick read, and then come ask them all the questions you want: what it will cost, taking care of your house & mail, finding THE boat, keeping safe, spare parts, provisions, tacos, overnight passages, travel in Mexico, the fun in Barra, and more.

They're just back from Mexico in time for this special presentation.
